Dear [First Name],

As you learn more about your hepatitis C (Hep C), you may be realizing that you can do something about it and possibly one day live Hep C free.

If you haven't experienced symptoms, you may think everything is fine and you can put off talking to a Hep C specialist about treatment. Or maybe a doctor told you that your liver is in relatively good shape and not to worry.

Are you experiencing any symptoms of Hep C?

A few common ones include:

- Fatigue
- Depression
- Body aches
- Abdominal discomfort
- Flu-like symptoms

If you experience symptoms, contact your Hep C specialist for assistance.

Keep in mind that Hep C is a serious disease that can progress for years without symptoms. Over time, Hep C can cause damage to your liver, potentially resulting in cirrhosis (scarring of the liver), liver failure, and even liver cancer.

Instead of worrying about disease progression, try focusing on working toward your hope of becoming free of Hep C. Success rates for curing chronic Hep C have improved in the last few years. A cure means the Hep C virus is not detected in the blood when measured 3 months after treatment is completed.

If you have questions, contact your Hep C specialist or call a Hep C Educator at 844-4HepcHope to get live support.

Sincerely,

The Hep C Hope Team
